

Cover Plates

ICP ceramic cover plates are designed to cover the investment mold inlet during the preheat process to avoid possible contamination problems. These products withstand thermal shock at high temperatures and are compatible with pour cups and shell materials.

Ribber cover plates are designed to stand off the pour cup, thereby allowing gases to vent from the mold inlet.

Several sizes available.

Samples upon request.

