

FILTERS

In today's market, many metal casters consider the use of ceramic filters necessary for the production of quality castings, and ICP is the leader in this industry. Ceramic filters are used to remove impurities from metals. Because ceramic filters can withstand extremely high temperatures, their use in foundry and investment casting processes continues to be essential.

Our ceramic filters for metal casting come in a variety of shapes and sizes.

